FOR A DAY OF ACTION AGAINST BUDGET CUTS!

Governor Cuomo appointed Wall Street banker Stephen Berger to fix healthcare in Brooklyn. Berger recommended merging and downsizing Wyckoff and other Brooklyn hospitals that provide necessary healthcare in low-income and medically underserved communities.

Join us to speak out against hospital closings, service reductions, and budget cuts!

This action is part of the “Another City is Possible” Campaign which is organizing a week of action protesting budget cuts in New York City.
